

WELL DONE

St Mary Mackillop seniors

Mrs Schofield got her class busy writing in preparation for my visit at the end of June.

I was delighted to not only see they had been writing ‘jackiwa’ poems, but two of her students presented me with a copy of their work. I was blown away by what they had done. Below are some more examples of their poems.

Most follow all the rules, but see if you can find the examples of free writing. They will still have 8 lines that tell a story.

Tiger

Jumpy, scary

Roar, hunts, sleeps

Tummy full of food.

Tummy starts to rumble

Already hungry again

Time to feed

Tiger.

By: Amutilda Nansen

Flash!

Quick, rough

Sprinting, flying, fighting,

Punching, defending, getting hit,

Bruised, injured, bleeding, coughing

Critical, life-support

Pale, cold

Dead.

By Benedict

Shark

Ginormous killers

Hunting, swimming, killing

Searching for his fishes

Now in his stomach

Swimming to freedom

Ginormous scarer

Shark

By Phoenix

Wolves

Social, cunning,

Stalking the herd

Waiting for their prey,

Attacking as a pack

Howling at night,

Sharp teeth

Hunter.

Lions

Hairy, big,

Funny, strong, dangerous,

Fast, tired, angry, lame,

Always missing their catch,

Hunting anything nearby -

Hungry, vicious

Lions.

By Brody

Superhero

Muscley, fast,

Flying, punching, fighting,

Tired, exhausted, bruised, strong,

Patched, medical treatment, recovering -

Recovered, strong, treated.

Fighting, stopping

Criminals.

Jackiwa poem...

“Real friends don't get offended when you insult them. They smile and call you something even more offensive.”

Friends

Forgiving, funny

Intelligent but dishonest

Making memories, creating legacy,

Then we depart to Find our future.

Never lasts

Friendship

By Josephine

Good friends
are hard to find,
harder to leave,
and impossible to forget.

LIGHTSCAMERACLICK//TUMBLR

Mountains

Fascinating, white,

Cold, icy outing.

Snowy and very tall

Such a beautiful view

Waiting to erupt.

Eye-catching

By Keryn

Tiger,
Jumpy, scary,
Roars, creeps, runs,
Eats its yummy food.
Time to go home
Drink, yawn, sleep
Full tummy
Happy.

By Lilly

Tiger,
Jumpy, vicious,
Stalks its prey.

Hunts down the rabbit
Viciously chews the meat.

Time to sleep
Tired creature,
Tiger.

By Loretta

Jackiwa poem

Lion

Vicious, fast,
Sharp teeth, loud.

He jumped onto me
Roaring ferociously and proud
But angrily because
He's hungry
Lion!

JACKIWA POEM

FRIENDS

Funny, friendly
Loving and strong.

Together forever we stand,

Just a silly quote,

Pretence and lies,

Honest, dishonest

FRIENDS

By Paula

Tiger,
Furious, stripey,
Stalks its prey,
Holds down the deer,
Eats its yummy flesh
Mouth yawns loudly,
Eyes sleepy
Tiger.
